“ My beautiful friend Ericka. You once gifted me an anointing oil called Esther you purchased for yourself but felt it belonged to me. I shared with you that while in my mother's womb my mom had named Esther. One month before my birth she decided to change my name. But deep down inside I have always felt like an Esther. Esther fought for her people. You my friend were an Esther. I anointed you with the Esther oil 2 days before the Lord called you home. You went home fighting in prayer for your people, your family, the people you loved. Thank for the talks and memories we shared. You left footprints in my life. I will cherish the mirror and oil as a reminder that Esthers still exist today. You were truly a Woman Warrior of God.
