“ I met Daniel while working at Uhaul. I was only there for a month before I quit. During that time I had met Daniel. He was a hard working man on disability but he strived for the best and gave everything into what he did. I remember before I left uhaul, when I bought my first home, he helped me tremendously. He helped me by stopping by the house I bought and helping with an issue I had and he solved it very quickly. He was a very quick thinker. He had common sense and much knowledge of life. He was filled with kindness and love. He would help anyone that brought an issue to him or a problem that someone might not be able to solve. Big or small. That is the person I know. It hurts my heart to know he will never be at another friendly gathering that we have. It hurts my heart to know such a great guy will not be able to be around to help someone else. It truly hurts that his family has to go through such a loss. The amount of love, compassion and true selflessness he has with others will be truly missed. But it says a lot about the character of this man to have such an outstanding impression on me when I worked with him for only a short period of time and got to know him outside of work only for a brief amount of time. I only wish I had more time to get to know him for the better man he was than I know. I wish more people were like him. It would be a far better place. I served overseas, in countries unknown to most. The bonds you build over there are no match. There is no greater bond than a man of true selflessness dignity. You Daniel, is the prime example of that. May you Rest In Peace my brother. I love you and you definitely had an impact on my life. - always, Josh.
