“ que bonito obituario para describir a Guadalupe, ella fue muy especial para mi ,siempre pendiente que me sentará un rato a descansar, todos los días me decia estoy rezando por ti y tu familia y yo le decia Amen, igualmente que buscará en su gaveta que siempre había algo para comer , me dijo antes de salir de vacaciones que se alegraba mucho que pudiera viajar y conocer otros lugares, me gaba encargado chocolates. Fue muy desprendida un ser maravilloso. Siempre la voy recordar y estoy seguro que tiene un lugar muy especial con papá dios. En estos momentos le envío mi sincera oración y se la encomiendo al Espíritu Santo para que en este nuevo nacer a un nuevo plano sea su guía. Rezaré también por ella.

“ *My beloved Godmother,
There are too many memories to focus just on one single moment. She has always been there, for anyone and everyone, she always opened up her heart and home. The sorrow that fills my heart is unimaginable but remembering all the fun adventures the 3 of us had, make it a bit more manageable. Mom and I spent a ton of time with her, from shopping trips, baracova on Sundays, to special adventures to see Mo, Jerry, or Tio Pete. I was blessed to have spent those moments together and I will always cherish them. Mia was a unique soul with many quirks that made her, her. Like the way she liked to stand instead of sit, which dubbed her the statue of liberty. Or the way she would tip that special waiter at Ciro's that almost gave Jerry a heartattack when he caught her one time. Or the silly faces she would make that would have Mo saying he was going to keep her two front teeth for his stash. Or the one time she got mad, can't remember what was going on, and she threw her purse down to the ground, it was funny since she was never one to get angry and she even laughed about it later. The way her smile lit up a room, especially when she was talking about her boys, or telling us they were coming down for a special visit. Mo and Jerry were her entire world and she made it known. Oh! She also made the best bean and egg tacos ever and she sparked my interest to cooking! Oh how she loved yellow roses, semita with cafecito (especially whataburger coffee), and most of all God. She had such a strong faith and I know she's up there with all our passed family members finally free of pain. I wasn't able to procure a flight down but know that I'm praying for Mo, Jerry, and all my family during this difficult time. I am there in spirit, grieving next to you, wishing i could hold you all as you held me. I love you all and hope we can get together soon.*

“ Lupita was one of my mom's best friends. She joined us for mass every Saturday when she could. Always kept us in her prayers along with many others. She loved her sons Joe and Jerry dearly and always wanted the best for them. She definitely was a great cook and baker. Always lent out a helping hand. You will be missed Lupita. May you Rest In Peace.
