“ My favorite memories of Tia were when I'd come to visit, she'd always greet me with a warm smile and a big hug followed by her calling me " Mijo". I felt adopted. She always had those beans and tortillas going. Which led to the old beans and tortillas story. She always said I was too skinny (which I wasn't, but if it meant I could eat that yummy food, I'll agree with her) I always told her never to tell my mom her tortillas and beans were better. She will be missed not because of the food, but because no matter who you were, she made you feel like you were special. And for me, calling me Mijo in that gentle, loving voice will always stay with me in the windmills of my mind. And her smile can be seen in all of her children...especially Rod. So she will never be forgotten. I will miss you and always love my favorite Tia. Rest now.

Your adopted nephew,
Frankie. "Mijo"

“ Maybe it was our first Christmas in Idaho, I remember my Mom picking up a pkg at the post office. Christmas morning she asked us to check and see if Santa had brought something - we were sure he had not visited us. We found 2 wrapped boxes with dolls inside, one for me and one for my sister. It wasn't until much later that we realized my Tia was "Santa Claus". She also sent us Easter dresses that year. She was such a giving, loving person. We were so very blessed to have her on our side.

I love her dearly and will greatly miss her!
