I think it's a problem you and your time of grieving. But I can cost a social security card with the last poor social. Having a sr 8299. And I really seriously doubt your uncle would want his name to be stolen and used with the social security number but I wanted to get it back to the owner of it. And it happened to see that this one has passed away. And I do apologize for your lost. Please contact me@WRISTON lea@gmail.com. That's my email and let me know some of the numbers. If you know any of them so I can get this to you if it's your uncle's or I can shreddit for you or whatever. But I just don't want somebody to steal his identity since he's now passed on. So please let me know and I do pray for your family and I very sorry
