"Oh Robert,

For years, the riverbank was where
Your soul felt most at peace
Your heart was the most content when there
With the fish and your family.
But then, your spirit came to rest
Where angels choose to roam
And once equipped with ten pond test
You made yourself at home.

The sky became your deep blue sea the clouds became your shore and there, For all eternity
You sat with friends and family galore

Each angel was a fisherman who had traded his pole
For golden wings and a gameplan at Heaven's Fishing Hole.

The tales you told about each catch
Its stature and its girth
Will live in memories unmatched
As days pass here on earth
Until we meet again, one day
Upon God's golden sand
We'll Picture you, no other way
Then with a pole in hand."

We love you, Dad.
